

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

THE 16th ANNUAL HANNA & HAROLD BARNETT AWARD IN LAW 2019/20

Each section in first year is to nominate one professor. This award is to be awarded to a current, full-time faculty member who taught a first year law course at the Schulich School of Law and “who has demonstrated excellence in teaching and a commitment to students through sensitivity to needs of the student in the classroom and accessibility to students outside the classroom.”

In order to promote high quality teaching for students in their first year in Law School, the following factors may be taken into consideration: demonstration of enthusiasm, dedication, commitment and positive attitude towards teaching, comprehensive knowledge of the material, preparation for teaching, effective methods of teaching, ability to encourage student participation, access to students and an ability to communicate the subject material effectively.

Please note that Professor Adelina Iftene was last year’s recipient. She is not eligible to receive the award again this year.
